Economic and Social Commission for Western Asia (ESCWA)

Twenty-seventh session
Beirut, 7-10 May 2012

Item 8 of the provisional agenda

REVISED DRAFT STRATEGIC FRAMEWORK
FOR THE BIENNium 2014-2015

Summary

This document presents the revised draft strategic framework for 2014-2015. The draft strategic framework for the biennium 2014-2015 was submitted to the Technical Committee at its sixth meeting (Beirut, 1-2 December 2011). This revised version takes into account the comments provided by member countries during that meeting and advice from the United Nations Secretariat.

The Commission is invited to review the overall programme orientation and focus areas and strategies pertained to the seven subprogrammes, taking into account the specific mandates issued by the Commission and the general mandates issued by the General Assembly and the Economic and Social Council, make concrete recommendations for further improvement, as necessary, and endorse the revised draft strategic framework for the biennium 2014-2015.

Introduction

1. In introducing the proposed programme budget for 2012-2013 to the sixty-fifth session of the General Assembly, the Secretary-General indicated that he would continue the process of strengthening the organization through the preparation of its proposed strategic framework and programme budget for the biennium 2014-2015.

2. Since the United Nations programme of work should be demand driven by Member States and jointly developed by Member States and the Secretariat, the Economic and Social Commission for Western Asia (ESCWA) and other Commissions are required to conduct intergovernmental reviews of their respective parts of the proposed strategic framework for the biennium 2014-2015, prior to consideration by the Committee for Programme and Coordination (CPC) at its fifty-second session, which will be held in New York from 4 to 29 June 2012.

3. The strategic framework of ESCWA for the biennium 2014-2015 is being developed according to the following four stages, set by the General Assembly:

   Stage 1: Development of a draft strategic framework by the ESCWA secretariat, based on the relevant global and regional mandates (time frame: September to December 2011);

   Stage 2: Refinement of the draft strategic framework by ESCWA member countries through the sixth meeting of the Technical Committee (time frame: December 2011);

   Stage 3: Consolidation of the proposed strategic framework of all programmes of the United Nations by the United Nations Secretariat (time frame: February to early April 2012);

   Stage 4: Global intergovernmental reviews by CPC, the Economic and Social Council and the General Assembly (time frame: June to December 2012).

4. In September 2011, the ESCWA secretariat embarked on the preparation of the draft strategic framework of programme 19, Economic and social development in Western Asia,* for the biennium 2014-2015, by adopting the following methodology: (a) desk review of the recent mandates and recommendations by the Commission and its subsidiary bodies and the recent global mandates in the economic and social development fields; (b) desk review of the programme achievements of ESCWA in the past two biennia, namely 2008-2009 and 2010-2011; (c) regional situation analyses through ESCWA studies; (d) informal consultations with line ministries and Government offices through visits to member countries and during activities organized by ESCWA; and (e) consultations with other regional commissions and United Nations entities which are members of the Executive Committee on Economic and Social Affairs (ECESA).

5. The Technical Committee, whose membership comprises senior officials from member countries and which is mandated by the Commission to follow up implementation of programme activities and support ESCWA in achieving its aims, reviewed the draft strategic framework for the biennium 2014-2015 during its sixth meeting (Beirut, 1-2 December 2011).

6. The revised draft strategic framework for the biennium 2014-2015, as submitted to the Commission at its twenty-seventh session, takes into account the comments provided by member countries during the sixth session of the Technical Committee.

* Note that the programme number for the work of ESCWA “Economic and social development in Western Asia” was changed from 18 to 19 for the biennium 2014-2015, according to General Assembly determinations for the programme of work of the United Nations.
7. The Commission is invited to review the overall programme orientation and focus areas and strategies contained therein, taking into account the specific mandates issued by the Commission and the general mandates issued by the General Assembly and the Economic and Social Council, make concrete recommendations for further improvement, as necessary, and endorse the revised draft strategic framework for the biennium 2014-2015. The decisions made by the Commission will be immediately communicated by the Chairperson of the present session to the Chairperson of the CPC fifty-second session.
I. OVERALL ORIENTATION

19.1 The overall orientation of programme 19, Economic and social development in Western Asia, is to foster comprehensive, equitable, integrated and sustainable economic and social development through effective economic and social cooperation in the region, and to maintain and strengthen economic relations between ESCWA member countries and with other countries of the world while paying special consideration to the least developed countries (LDC) and conflict-stricken countries. ESCWA is responsible for the implementation of the programme.

19.2 Policy direction for the programme is provided in Economic and Social Council resolutions 1818 (LV) dated 9 August 1973 and 1985/69, establishing ESCWA and amending its terms of reference in order to underscore the social functions of the Commission. Further direction is provided in Economic and Social Council resolution 2005/50, in which ESCWA was requested to provide support to member countries in realizing the Millennium Development Goals, including by building capacity to formulate policies, monitor the progress made and measure its impact, and prepare regional reports. In addition, in its resolution 269 (XXIV) dated 11 May 2006, the Commission requested its Executive Secretary to increase coherence and synergy with other regional United Nations organizations and, through the Commission’s lead role in the Regional Coordination Mechanism, foster partnerships and cooperation with those organizations.

19.3 As the regional arm of the United Nations, ESCWA will continue to foster economic integration at the subregional and regional levels, to promote the regional implementation of internationally agreed development goals, including the Millennium Development Goals (MDGs), and to support regional sustainable development by contributing to bridging economic, social and environmental policy gaps in member countries. In order to achieve these objectives, ESCWA, through its convening power, will continue to advance multilateral dialogue, knowledge-sharing and networking at the regional level, and will work with other subregional and regional organizations to promote intraregional cooperation, and with the other regional Commissions to promote interregional cooperation.

19.4 Since late 2010, the political landscape of the ESCWA region has been experiencing dramatic transformations. ESCWA will play a crucial and unique role in facilitating government responses to the needs of their citizens by assisting member countries in addressing current policy weaknesses and enhancing their capacity to effectively address existing inequalities. It will also use its convening power to provide a forum for member countries to discuss and share views on overall economic, social and sustainable development issues in the region.

19.5 The strategic framework for the biennium 2014-2015 takes into consideration the impending deadline for the achievement of MDGs, the year 2015, and as such emphasizes the importance of supporting member countries to fast track their commitments, in particular in line with the Global Action Plan agreed during the High-level Plenary Meeting of the General Assembly (MDG+10 Summit) in 2010.

A. STRATEGIC PILLARS: A NEW ARCHITECTURE TO RESPOND TO THE REGION’S CHALLENGES

19.6 In light of the challenges highlighted above and in order to capitalize on the opportunities presented by the movement towards a more expansive social and political horizon and to exploit the full potential capacity of ESCWA, an extensive process of consultation was initiated within and outside ESCWA on this draft strategic framework to ensure that the needs of member countries and their citizens are captured within its four-year vision (2012-2015).

19.7 The purpose of this exercise is to: (a) establish a medium term plan (2-4 years) up to the target date 2015 for the achievement of the MDGs; (b) provide a framework for a more effective integration of the work of ESCWA around three institutionally defined Strategic Pillars; (c) streamline planning processes and ensure greater coherence between the objectives and strategies, and the activities, outputs, and performance measures; and (d) enable the subprogrammes to articulate the way by which their work intends to have an impact on the economic and social development challenges in the region. This will increase the impact of the activities undertaken by ESCWA and facilitate the review and evaluation aimed at measuring the impact of the organization at the institutional level.

19.8 ESCWA will focus its work towards inclusive and sustainable development in the region. Its programme comprises seven interdependent subprogrammes that focus on three Strategic Pillars that serve as mainstays for work to be implemented on 12 priority areas underpinned by three cross-cutting issues. Specifically, ESCWA is expanding its integrated planning approach so that several or all of ESCWA subprogrammes have a joint role in contributing to the impacts ESCWA is to achieve in each of the three Strategic Pillars and that there are no Strategic Pillars that are solely the purview of any single subprogramme. Thus, the strategic framework for the biennium 2014-2015 not only reflects the work of individual units but also presents ESCWA as a fully integrated organization.

19.9 ESCWA Strategic Pillars are: Equitable Growth and Sustainability; Regional Integration; and Good Governance and Resilience.

19.10 Using these three Strategic Pillars, ESCWA is building fully integrated programmes with priority areas that are the focus of more than one subprogramme. Throughout its work, ESCWA will achieve more than simply implementing the programmed outputs. It will target predetermined and measurable outcomes under each priority area and will require changes in practice by member countries in line with the objectives expressed in each integrated subprogramme. To this end, ESCWA will shift the focus of its implementation and monitoring efforts from the individual outputs or workplan of each subprogramme to the overall contribution of the subprogramme to the outcomes established for each priority area and Strategic Pillar.

1. Equitable Growth and Sustainability

19.11 Under the Strategic Pillar of Equitable Growth and Sustainability, ESCWA will increase the capacity of member countries to formulate and/or implement policies that promote equitable, resilient and sustainable development as a critical tool for broadening opportunities for human development through equitable and sustainable growth. Under this Strategic Pillar, ESCWA will focus on three priority areas: Equity, Inclusion and Employment; Competitive Knowledge-based Economies; and Sustainable Natural Resource Management.

19.12 For the priority area of Equity, Inclusion and Employment, ESCWA will work on strengthening the capacity of member countries to develop and improve inclusive and equitable socioeconomic conditions through integrated workplans by subprogrammes 1, 2 and 3, which will focus on: (a) developing rights-based social policies that promote social integration, social protection, the provision of adequate social services and employment generation; (b) designing pro-poor growth policies focused on employment generation and inclusive and equitable financial policies; and (c) increasing the productivity of small and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs) for employment creation and economic diversification. For the priority area of Competitive Knowledge-based Economies, ESCWA will build integrated workplans for subprogrammes 3 and 5 focusing on enhancing the capacity of member countries to develop and fully operationalize knowledge-based economies for sustainable economic growth and poverty alleviation through effective macroeconomic management as well as promoting economic diversification and competitiveness for decent job creation. For the priority area of Sustainable Natural Resource Management, ESCWA will enhance the capacity of member countries to develop and implement national, subregional and regional policies, strategies and action plans for the sustainable management of water, energy and land in line with major United Nations conferences on sustainable development and relevant multilateral environmental agreements. This work will be led by subprogramme 1.
2. Regional Integration

19.13 Under the Strategic Pillar of Regional Integration, ESCWA will seek to increase prosperity for the people of the region as a result of strengthened regional cooperation. Under this Strategic Pillar, ESCWA will focus on five priority areas: Knowledge and Technology Management; Sustainable Infrastructure; Socio-economic Policy Coordination; Food, Water and Energy Security; and Gender-sensitive Policies and Legislation.

19.14 For the priority area of Knowledge and Technology Management, ESCWA will accelerate the realization of an inclusive, people-centred and development-oriented information society in the region. This work will be led by subprogramme 4. For the priority area of Sustainable Infrastructure, ESCWA will enhance integration of member countries through developing and harmonizing the physical and legislative regional infrastructure including the Integrated Transport System in the Arab Mashreq associated frameworks. Work in this priority area will be led by subprogramme 3. For the priority area of Socio-economic Policy Coordination, ESCWA will promote regionally coordinated social and economic policies, and ensure the implementation of regional economic agreements to achieve the potential for intraregional integration and build a harmonized policy framework for the legislation required to govern e-commerce, e-service, e-trade and e-business between Arab countries. This effort will require the integrated work of subprogrammes 3 and 4 including the full contribution of the ESCWA Technology Centre located in Jordan. For the priority area of Food, Water and Energy Security, ESCWA, led by subprogramme 1, will work to enhance the level of food, water and energy security in the Arab region, for its sustained long-term development and to preserve the achievements in poverty alleviation and human development of the region by promoting regional cooperation on shared water resources, energy networks, and land management. For the priority area of Gender-sensitive Policies and Legislation, ESCWA will promote regional integration in that regard by supporting the adoption of gender-sensitive policies and legislation in order to attain equal rights of women in line with international conferences, conventions and internationally agreed development goals. This effort will be led by subprogramme 6.

3. Good Governance and Resilience

19.15 Under the Strategic Pillar of Good Governance and Resilience, ESCWA will strengthen the capacity of member countries to build engagement between government and people based on citizenship, to identify and respond to potential conflict and other vulnerabilities, and to formulate resilience measures to mitigate negative impacts. Under this Strategic Pillar, ESCWA will focus on four priority areas: Participation and Citizenship; Socio-economic Impacts of Conflict and Occupation; Institutional Development; and Resilience to Natural and Human-made Crises.

19.16 For the priority area of Participation and Citizenship, ESCWA will encourage the adoption and implementation of participatory and inclusive governance and national development policies based on the equal participation of men and women, with a focus on enhancing the position of women in democratic decision-making processes and ensuring the participation of civil society and other stakeholders in public policy formulation, implementation and monitoring. This priority area will require integrated workplans by subprogrammes 2, 6 and 7. For the priority area of Socio-economic Impacts of Conflict and Occupation, ESCWA, led by subprogramme 7, will support member countries in mitigating the negative impact of occupation and the ramifications of conflict and their spillover effects on human development in the region, particularly the least developed countries. For the priority area Institutional Development, ESCWA will seek, through the integrated work of subprogrammes 3, 6 and 7, to support public institutions in member countries in creating an enabling environment for development, pre-empting conflict, and achieving reconciliation and peace through: (a) nationally led and owned good governance practice for the implementation of enhanced macroeconomic management; (b) promoting efficient, transparent and accountable civil service, including effective public service delivery, as tools to pre-empt conflict and achieve reconciliation and peace; and (c) using institutional development and good governance structures to promote the adoption of legislation and national action plans to combat gender-based violence. For the priority area of Resilience to Natural and Human-made Crises, ESCWA will seek, through subprogramme 1, to develop the capacity of member countries to absorb and respond to the impact of crises through the development of sound policies, including the development of subregional and regional mechanisms for a coordinated response to climate change and natural crises.

B. CROSS-CUTTING ISSUES

19.17 The programme of work of ESCWA will be guided by three cross-cutting issues: Partnerships, Knowledge Management and Gender under which the workplan of subprogramme 5, Statistics for evidence-based policymaking, is focused.

1. Partnerships

19.18 Taking into account the new set of corporate Strategic Pillars and the relatively limited human and financial resources, it becomes vital and instrumental to develop holistic strategic partnerships with other regional stakeholders, which in turn should contribute to the fulfillment of the objectives of ESCWA.

19.19 ESCWA is reviewing each priority area to identify the relevant actors from sister agencies, civil society organizations, private sector and others with whom it would be strategically opportune to ally in order to maximize the success in implementing ESCWA workplans. The sum of the different actions and the respective partners identified to carry them out will provide a framework for comprehensive memoranda of understanding that will benefit the region as a whole. Principally, during the biennium 2012-2013 ESCWA will complete a five-year comprehensive agreement with the League of Arab States that will cement the relationship between the two organizations for the biennium 2014-2015 and ensure that the synergies and complementarities between them are fully exploited.

19.20 ESCWA will particularly focus on promoting South-South cooperation between member countries and with other developing countries through sister regional commissions to use South-South cooperation as a catalyst to improve capacity development efforts and to identify opportunities for intraregional activities.

2. Knowledge Management

19.21 The work of ESCWA requires that ESCWA become a leading knowledge-based institution and thus devote a higher level of attention to knowledge sharing. This applies to internal processes within the ESCWA secretariat, to the work of its intergovernmental, technical and expert bodies, and to the relationship with member countries and partners.

19.22 ESCWA, through its convening power, has a significant knowledge dissemination potential that has yet to be used to its full extent. A core role of the intergovernmental processes is to facilitate exchange of experience among experts from countries in the region with a view to accelerating the development of their technical, decision-making, governance and management skills, and implementing new policy options learned from their peers. In particular, ESCWA will follow up on technical and expert group meetings, workshops and seminars, maintain and moderate networks of experts and stimulate a productive exchange of information.

19.23 Through the work of subprogramme 5, Statistics for evidence-based policymaking, ESCWA has taken the lead in the coordination of statistical information in the region, and aims to: (a) improve the provision of statistical data about member countries through the collection and dissemination of official statistics and indicators in support of informed policymaking; (b) enhance national capacity of member countries to produce relevant, timely, reliable and comparable official statistics in line with the United Nations Fundamental Principles of Official Statistics; and (c) strengthen a regional statistical system in support of regional integration.
19.24 ESCWA will utilize its leadership position in the Statistics Coordination Taskforce of the Regional Coordination Mechanism to promote coordination of statistics among national and international organizations active in the region. ESCWA has also put in place an internal coordination mechanism for statistical activities.

3. Gender

19.25 Gender is a cross-cutting issue that deeply influences all the areas of work undertaken by ESCWA. Women and men have different needs and priorities in the development process. They also differ in accessing and controlling resources. Therefore, each intervention by ESCWA has to take into account the gender dimension.

19.26 The work of ESCWA in gender mainstreaming takes on two components. The first is to assist member countries in promoting gender equality and the advancement of women. The second is to integrate a gender perspective in the entire programme of work.

19.27 ESCWA will continue to lead among United Nations entities the implementation of the United Nations system-wide action plan (SWAP) on Gender Equality and the Empowerment of Women which was endorsed by the Chief Executives Board for Coordination (CEB) in 2006.

19.28 ESCWA will also continue to carry out analytical and normative work, supplemented by the provision of technical cooperation support in line with the articulated needs of member countries. It will act as a facilitator for the exchange of knowledge and information by providing a forum for networking and multilateral dialogue on regional and global development issues, while paying due consideration to the advancement of South-South cooperation. Special attention will be given to the promotion of gender mainstreaming through the programme of work and within the Commission, in pursuance of the global priorities of the United Nations. Similarly, lessons derived from evaluation exercises will be consolidated to improve the design and performance of programmes, in view of the United Nations commitment to encourage and support evaluation practice to enhance learning and accountability.

19.29 It is anticipated that the consultations which have taken place among the thematic clusters of the Executive Committee on Economic and Social Affairs will contribute to enhanced coordination and collaboration in major common work areas of the United Nations Secretariat dealing with economic and social development. Moreover, through its leadership of the Regional Coordination Mechanism, ESCWA will strive to facilitate consultation processes among the United Nations entities concerned, leading to the identification of priority areas where collective support for development interventions could be provided, whether at the level of the ESCWA region or in the broader context of the Arab region.

19.30 The indicators of achievement used in the log frames below are intended to measure the direct impact of the work undertaken by ESCWA and to show a link between the implementation of the programme of work and the expected accomplishments.
II. SUBPROGRAMMES

Subprogramme 1. Integrated management of natural resources for sustainable development

2. Strategy

19.31 The responsibility for implementing subprogramme 1 is vested in the Sustainable Development and Productivity Division. The interrelated and complex challenges facing the region and the current social and political tensions have wide-range consequences that require concerted efforts to strengthen the interlinkages between the economic, social and environmental pillars of sustainable development and to galvanize action at the national and regional levels. The regional challenges include increasing population pressure and the related rise in demand for water and energy services; rising unemployment, particularly among youth; unsustainable production and consumption patterns; the need to ensure water, energy and food security; the disparity between urban and rural development; low agricultural productivity; traffic congestion and unsustainable transport systems; and climate change and its impact on water resources, desertification and land management.

19.32 To enhance the impact of the work of ESCWA and improve services provided to the countries of the region, the subprogramme will provide support to the countries of the region to address the above-mentioned challenges and to move towards a more sustainable development path.

19.33 The subprogramme will undertake/continue to:

(a) Advocate and raise awareness of the countries of the region on global commitments and the outcome of major United Nations conferences/summits on sustainable development, particularly on the MDGs and the outcome of Rio+20, and monitor and support follow-up actions;

(b) Serve as a forum for promoting policy dialogue on sustainable development issues and priorities for forging regional positions and perspectives based on the exchange of information, lessons learned and best practice;

(c) Support member countries in their efforts to improve the efficient use of renewable and non-renewable water, energy and land resources, including the application of appropriate environment-friendly technologies, and encourage the integrated management of water, energy and land to achieve sustainable development;

(d) Facilitate regional cooperation and coordination on water, energy and land as the means to enhance food, water and energy security;

(e) Contribute to national and regional capacity-building, especially on water, energy, including renewable energy, and agricultural issues;

(f) Support the development of national/regional mechanisms for the integration of the economic, social and environmental pillars for sustainable development;

(g) Support the development of national/regional mechanisms to address climate change impacts;

(h) Support the efforts of member countries to strengthen SMEs for job creation and economic diversification.

19.34 This will be achieved through servicing intergovernmental bodies; conducting quality research and analytical work; organizing intergovernmental and expert meetings; providing advisory services; implementing field projects, including extrabudgetary and United Nations Development Account projects; building capacity through workshops and other technical assistance activities; and, issuing technical material to raise awareness of key sustainable development issues and challenges targeted for global and regional action in 2014 and 2015.

19.35 The subprogramme will strive to maximize synergies through collaboration with United Nations agencies and organizations, including the United Nations Environment Programme (UNEP), the United Nations Industrial Development Organization (UNIDO), the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO), the International Fund for Agricultural Development (IFAD) and the Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO), and through participation in UN-Water and UN-Energy, and the Regional Coordination Mechanism (RCM). It will continue to cooperate with the League of Arab States and its associated bodies, particularly with the Council of Arab Ministers Responsible for the Environment, the Arab Ministerial Council for Water, the Arab Ministerial Council for Electricity as well as other regional mechanisms for coordination on sustainable development.
Subprogramme 2. Social development

1. Logical framework

Objective: To enhance the capacity of member countries to adopt social policies and institutional mechanisms that lead to an equitable and inclusive process of socio-economic development, taking into consideration regional specificities.

2. Strategy

19.36 The responsibility for implementing subprogramme 2 lies with the Social Development Division. The subprogramme will build on the experience gained in previous biennia and will continue to advocate equity, social justice, inclusion and participation as the guiding social development principles.

19.37 During the biennium 2014-2015, particular attention will be paid to promoting social development through: (a) a rights-based approach to social policy and social protection; (b) social integration; (c) special focus on such key socio-demographic groups as youth, the elderly and migrants; (d) employment generation; and (e) participatory development.

19.38 Inclusive societies that successfully integrate all social groups into the national development process are better equipped to maintain social cohesion during times of crisis, and to avoid socio-political upheaval. In that regard, there is an urgent need to promote social integration, employment generation and civil society participation in the formulation, implementation and monitoring of public policies involving three different types of activities: (a) identification of citizens’ priorities over alternative social development outcomes;
(b) formulation and implementation of policies based on those priorities; and (c) monitoring policy impact on the lives of those who are affected.

19.39 The subprogramme will seek to build the capacity of member countries to mainstream social equity concerns in their public policymaking and will also assist them in the implementation of internationally agreed plans of action and recommendations, including the Millennium Development Goals, in the run-up to the deadline for their implementation in 2015.

19.40 The subprogramme will undertake both normative and technical cooperation activities. The normative activities will include research and analysis on social development issues, the preparation of substantive reports and the organization of expert group meetings. Technical cooperation activities will include the provision of advisory services, capacity development workshops and field projects, notably in the areas of youth development, social protection and civil society participation.

19.41 Partnerships will be further strengthened with other regional commissions, United Nations entities, international and regional organizations and civil society groups. In the process, the subprogramme will also act as a regional platform for the exchange of experiences, good practice and lessons learned in the field of social development, and for increased interaction between Western Asia and other regions of the world.

Subprogramme 3. Economic development and integration

2. Strategy

19.42 The responsibility for implementing this subprogramme lies with the Economic Development and Globalization Division. The Millennium Development Goals, the revised Damascus Declaration on Responding to the International Financial Crisis in the ESCWA Region, the Monterrey Consensus, the Doha Declaration on Financing for Development, the Doha Development Agenda, the Integrated Transport System in the Arab Mashreq, and the relevant General Assembly, Economic and Social Council and ESCWA resolutions provide the legislative mandates for the subprogramme.

19.43 During the biennium 2014-2015, particular attention will be paid to promoting economic development through: (a) adopting an inclusive and equitable approach to fostering economic development as well as sound development policies and strategies taking the region’s specific challenges into account; (b) promoting regional integration to the benefit of all people in the region; (c) developing innovative approaches to financing for development; and (d) enhancing economic diversification to increase resilience to shocks of national economies.

19.44 Inclusive economic growth and more equitable distribution of income are at the core of the demands by the region’s populations and they will be the main directives of the subprogramme in the biennium 2014-2015. In that context, there is an urgent need to promote and support the implementation of effective regional economic development policies and strategies that would accelerate the achievement of internationally agreed development goals such as the Millennium Development Goals by 2015. Efforts to promote regional integration include integrated transport systems, intraregional as well as international trade, implementation and monitoring of the Monterrey Consensus, and follow-up on the recommendations of the International Conference on Financing for Development (taking into consideration the consequences of the global economic and financial crisis). To achieve those objectives, the following activities will be undertaken: (a) developing and using such economic analysis and forecasting tools as macroeconomic models, which in turn enable sound policy recommendations based on the short- as well as long-run projections; (b) conducting sound macro- and microeconomic research leading to reference and flagship publications (i.e. Arab Economic Outlook); and (c) providing (technical) assistance and capacity-building targeted to the individual needs of member countries (e.g. monitoring of policy impact on the economic development).

19.45 The subprogramme will achieve its main objective and eventually its five expected accomplishments by conducting and delivering innovative research, multidisciplinary integrated policy advise, capacity-building, implementation support, as well as monitoring and evaluation.

19.46 The subprogramme will work closely with relevant stakeholders in member countries including governments, development partners (including international financial institutions), civil society organizations and the private sector. Existing and emerging partnerships will be further strengthened with other regional commissions, United Nations entities, international and regional organizations and civil society groups.
Subprogramme 4. Information and communications technology for regional integration

1. Logical framework

Objective: To accelerate bridging the digital divide and adoption by member countries of an inclusive, people-centred and development-oriented information society and knowledge-based economy for sustainable economic growth and poverty alleviation, in accordance with the outcomes of the World Summit on the Information Society (WSIS) and the internationally agreed development goals, through partnerships, innovation, knowledge and technology management.

| (a) Enhanced capacity of member countries to fully develop and benefit from knowledge-based economies for sustainable economic growth and poverty alleviation | (a) (i) Increased number of member countries implementing information and communications technology (ICT), policies, strategies and plans of action that emphasize the development of knowledge-based economies
   (ii) Increased number of member countries showing progress in the implementation of internationally agreed indicators on knowledge-based economy
   (iii) Increased number of partnerships and technology-based projects and programmes launched and implemented in the region by the ESCWA Technology Centre |
| (b) Enhanced competitiveness of the ICT sector in the region on the production and service delivery levels, with special focus on partnerships, research, development and innovation | (b) (i) Increased number of regional initiatives for the development of information and knowledge societies through partnerships, research-development-innovation, and ICT applications
   (ii) Increased number of member countries using the Core ICT Indicators issued by the Partnership on Measuring Information and Communication Technologies for Development |
| (c) Enhanced capacity of member countries to ensure the coordination of their socio-economic policies, fully achieve the potential for intraregional integration and build a harmonized policy framework for Internet governance and the legislation required for e-commerce, e-trade, e-service and e-business between Arab countries | (c) (i) Increased number of member countries joining regional or global initiatives/frameworks related to Internet governance and/or cybersafety
   (ii) Increased number of policymaking and legislative initiatives encouraging the use of cyberspace and e-commerce/e-services in the ESCWA region |
2. Strategy

19.47 The responsibility for implementing subprogramme 4 lies with the Information and Communication Technology Division. Regional and global changes are taking place at the economic, social, cultural and political levels, with information and knowledge playing a major role in the move towards the information and knowledge society. The accelerating development in knowledge during the past few decades has modified the principles of economic growth with the move towards a knowledge-based economy affecting all sectors of the economy. Significant differences exist in the capacity of countries to adapt to changes in technology and knowledge. With continued monitoring of activities pertaining to the WSIS Geneva Plan of Action and Tunis Agenda for the Information Society, and efforts to implement the ESCWA Regional Plan of Action for Building the Information Society, in harmonization with the Arab Information and Communications Technology Strategy of the League of Arab States, the subprogramme will strive to adapt the Summit outcomes to better serve the region and fine-tune plans of action in order to build an inclusive, people-centred information society that is based on productive national ICT sectors.

19.48 The subprogramme, in its effort to meet the needs of member countries, will carry out analytical studies, convene meetings, provide advisory services, act as a catalyst for change in policymaking and promote the adoption of a more comprehensive set of ICT measurements and indicators that will help strategic decision-making to identify priority areas of policy action and measure the impact of ICT on socio-economic development. It will assess and revise plans of action based on feedback by member countries, monitor progress, evaluate impacts and benchmark national development with other countries based on international indices, with a view to improving the productivity and competitiveness of the ICT sector in the region towards building a knowledge-based economy.

19.49 In order to enhance national capacity, with special focus on human resources development, and take advantage of the digital opportunities pertaining to socio-economic development in the region, field projects will incorporate a social dimension through the active involvement of local communities, with a focus on youth employment and the empowerment of women, in order to build a people-centered and development-oriented information and knowledge society.

19.50 The subprogramme will continue to place special emphasis on promoting an enabling environment and harnessing the development of ICT thematic applications, including e-services, e-government, the digital Arabic content and social media. In addition, the subprogramme will focus on leveraging ICTs for the development of knowledge-based economies in the region.

19.51 The ESCWA Technology Centre (ETC) will assist members countries and public and private institutions to acquire the tools and capabilities necessary to induce socio-economic development in order to attain technological parity with other countries and regions of the world and have economies of member countries rely more on scientific and technological knowledge by strengthening their capability to develop and manage national innovation systems; develop, transfer, adapt and apply technology; improve the terms of technology transfer; and identify and promote the development and transfer of technologies relevant to the region. In doing so, the ETC will utilize the resources and know-how available at other ESCWA Divisions and Centres and provide large-scale networking efforts.

19.52 The subprogramme will enhance regional collaboration and partnerships in harnessing research and development (R&D) in science and technology, particularly ICT, for socio-economic development. In that context, the subprogramme will continue to work with regional and global partners to enhance integrating infrastructure, regional backbones, and broadband strategies for more affordable access across the region.
Subprogramme 5. Statistics for evidence-based policymaking

1. Logical framework

Objective: To enhance the regional statistical system through statistical capacity development of member countries, in order to produce comparable, reliable, impartial, and relevant national data for evidence-based policymaking and research.

<tr>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>

2. Strategy

19.53 The responsibility for implementing subprogramme 5 lies with the Statistics Division. There is a continued need to align the production and dissemination of statistics with the emerging societal changes due to the latest developments in the Arab region, by improving the relevance and comparability of statistics in social, economic and cross-cutting issues in a democratic society at the regional level. Addressing those challenges will strengthen the role of statistics in evidence-based policymaking and in monitoring and evaluating the impact of development policies.

19.54 ESCWA will seek partnerships with other organizations (United Nations, as well as non-United Nations) that are active in the field of statistics in the region. In that context, the subprogramme will coordinate statistical capacity development in order to achieve higher efficiency, and will share data and harmonize questionnaires in order to obtain more consistent data, decrease reporting burden and better utilize resources available for data work at each organization. To that end, ESCWA will primarily utilize the Regional Coordination Mechanism, in particular the Statistics Coordination Taskforce, and other means of coordination. ESCWA will also strengthen its internal coordination mechanism for statistical activities.
19.55 During the biennium 2014-2015, the subprogramme will concentrate on three main roles, namely: collection and dissemination of data; development of statistical capacity; and coordination of statistical activities with regional and international players in official statistics active in the region.

19.56 The priority areas for data collection, processing and dissemination include foundational demographic, social, economic and sectoral statistics that are a basis of official statistics. Data collection shall focus on collecting data directly from member countries and on sharing data with other partners active in the field of statistics in the region. Proper attention shall be paid to communicating statistics to the media and the public.

19.57 Statistics about the region can only be improved when the methodological and quality issues are addressed at the source – national statistical offices and other national producers of official statistics (national statistical systems). This will be addressed by identifying gaps and discrepancies and planning statistical capacity development programmes. Therefore, the statistical capacity development at the national level is at the core of any efforts aimed at ensuring better coverage, relevance, timeliness and comparability of data. The subprogramme will advocate the importance of full adherence to the Fundamental Principles of Official Statistics, especially those which address the following issues: (a) the impartiality of official statistics and their availability to the public; (b) the use of appropriate methods and procedures for the collection, processing, storage and presentation of statistical data; and (c) the presentation of information on sources and methods according to internationally agreed standards.

19.58 ESCWA will take an active role in ensuring that major players in official statistics in the region coordinate their activities. Quality of statistical data is a primary concern to all producers and users of statistics. This involves such attributes of data as consistency, timeliness, international comparability, etc. In that regard, it is important to ensure that reporting burdens on member countries are minimized and that data are shared among international organizations to the maximum extent possible. To that end, ESCWA shall step in coordination of statistics among national and international organizations active in the region having the above objectives in mind, while respecting the needs and specifics of each involved organization.

19.59 In order to accomplish this strategy, the subprogramme will exert efforts to: (a) act as a centre of excellence and a forum for exchange of views on statistical issues for member countries; (b) provide training at the national, subregional and regional levels; (c) work, in close and/or direct cooperation and coordination with professional staff in national statistical offices of member countries, on data quality assurance and the implementation of international classifications and recommendations; (d) respond to requests for technical assistance coming from member countries; (e) assist in the exchange of expertise among member countries; and (f) build trust with counterparts in member countries.

Subprogramme 6. Advancement of women

1. Logical framework

Objective: To reduce gender imbalances, encourage exchange of lessons learned among member countries and contribute to increased respect of the rights of women in line with international conventions and conferences.

</tbody>

2. Strategy

19.60 The responsibility for implementing subprogramme 6 lies with the ESCWA Centre for Women. Notwithstanding the progress accomplished by ESCWA member countries towards the advancement of women, the economic participation of women and their representation at the economic and political decision-making levels continue to be lower than in other regions of the world. Furthermore, combating violence against women remains a serious challenge in the region, especially in conflict-stricken areas. Moreover, current popular movements represent a risk as they may result in the reversal of acquired gains in women’s rights. Therefore, there is a need to foster greater participation of civil society, especially women and the youth, in public policy formulation and active dialogue with governments.

19.61 Building on the experience gained in past biennia, the subprogramme will intensify its efforts to enhance the institutional capacity of national machineries for the advancement of women, and other stakeholders such as members of parliament, the judiciary, the media and civil society institutions, through regular dissemination of new knowledge on gender issues, the provision of advocacy tools and research methodology, and the development of in-house training, knowledge and skills. The subprogramme will also provide forums in which national machineries for the advancement of women in the ESCWA and other regions can actively share knowledge and experiences in the area of gender mainstreaming and implementation of international women instruments.

19.62 The subprogramme will work on building the capacity of member countries and other stakeholders in combating GBV through the enactment of special laws to protect women from violence and end impunity for this crime. In line with this endeavour, due attention will be paid to the national machineries for the advancement of women in conflict-stricken countries in order to address the special needs of women living in those areas.

19.63 The subprogramme will work on ensuring that men and women are actively engaged in policy dialogue with governments. In that context, the subprogramme will work on building the capacity of civil society institutions in public policy formulation, implementation, monitoring and evaluation processes through the organization of capacity-building workshops and promulgation of normative and analytical work. The subprogramme will act as a regional forum for joint governmental and non-governmental discussions on gender issues.

19.64 The subprogramme has been active in fostering relationships between government bodies dealing with the empowerment and advancement of women and civil society organizations through meetings to analyse and discuss the situation of women at the regional level. It will continue to work closely with other United Nations entities and regional organizations, including UN-Women, the United Nations Development Fund for Women, the United Nations Population Fund, the United Nations Development Programme/Subregional Resource Facility for Arab States, the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights, the International Labour Organization, the League of Arab States, the Arab Women Organization and the Center for Arab Women Training and Research, in order to consolidate and enhance the impact of development support in the area of the advancement of women in the region.

Subprogramme 7. Conflict mitigation and development

1. Logical framework

Objective: To mitigate the impact of conflict and its spillover effects on people and development in the ESCWA region through strengthening dialogue, peacebuilding, governance and public sector modernization.

2. Strategy

19.65 The responsibility for implementing subprogramme 7 lies with the Emerging and Conflict-Related Issues Division. The ESCWA region development process has mostly been characterized by limited poor indicators of governance and socio-economic development, particularly in conflict-affected countries. This has been even further exacerbated by rentierism and limited citizen participation in policy or decision-making. However, the events of 2011 have indicated a popular will that is demanding a change in developmental governance, including a strong demand for transparency, accountability and participation. ESCWA is increasingly expected to play a role in enhancing the capacity of member countries to adopt and implement good governance practice and inclusive approaches. ESCWA will aim to enhance peacebuilding and national identity, which will be the implicit outcome of a more effective public sector, accessible to all citizens and catering to national development priorities.

19.66 ESCWA will assist member countries in enhancing their capacity to mitigate the negative impact of conflict, including communal tensions, lack of proper resource distribution and limited participation, through the formulation of policies and programmes that enable State institutions to overcome the adverse effects of conflict and lead national reconciliation processes.

19.67 To achieve its expected accomplishments under the Strategic Pillar of Good Governance and Resilience, the subprogramme will focus on three main areas: (a) promotion of peacebuilding and inclusive governance; (b) identification and analysis of trends and suggestion of mitigation measures and increasing awareness; and (c) institutional development and civil service advancement with the aim of improving service delivery.

19.68 Focus area (a) will be achieved through the identification and promotion of inclusive governance practice within State and non-State entities in order to secure citizens engagement in the decision-making processes, and through the enhancement of resource management capacity of different tiers of government with the aim of securing a more efficient and equitable distribution of services. To that end, the subprogramme will seek to engage relevant stakeholders (government, civil society organizations, academia and citizens) through meetings and staff missions so their perspective and knowledge are considered and included in the formulation of the subprogramme research, policy recommendations and capacity-building programmes.

19.69 Focus area (b) will be realized by conducting leading edge research on the root causes of conflict, its impact and spillover effects. The subprogramme will also conduct an analysis of the socio-economic impact of the Israeli occupation of the Palestinian Territories, through its regular annual publication on the subject, and will enhance awareness of the negative repercussions of occupation. This focus area will be supported by studies and reports based on field assessments and analysis of trends.

19.70 Focus area (c) will be realized by achieving capacity-development and knowledge-building through meetings, advisory services and staff missions and research on institutional development strategies to strengthen public sector performance, provide top quality policy options and share best practice. To that end, the subprogramme will promote the establishment of mechanisms for exchange of information and best practice among decision-makers across the region, particularly on the topics of public service delivery, support for the least developed countries in the region, and good governance.
