Washington Group: Global & Regional Activities

Mitchell Loeb
National Center for Health Statistics, USA and Chair, Washington Group on Disability Statistics
The WG: Shifting Focus

Since its first meeting in 2002 the WG has maintained a global perspective - addressing the need for population-based measures of disability in order to

• foster international cooperation and build a global consensus on disability measurement and
• produce measures that are internationally tested and will reliably produce cross-nationally comparable disability statistics.

A core goal has been to mainstream disability statistics and ensure that they become an integral element in national statistical systems.
The WG: Shifting Focus

During the past 4 years, with support from the Australian Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade (DFAT), the WG has been able to continue its international work and has, in addition, begun to shift focus from providing global/national support, to building capacity regionally.

Implementing the Washington Group Questions on Functioning
Regional Centers

During the current DFAT grant period (2019/2020), one Regional Center will be piloted to demonstrate how an on-going regional consortium of NSOs, working in consultation with civil society and advocacy groups, can be established as a viable and sustainable support mechanism for use of the WG methodology. The Asia-Pacific region was chosen as the pilot region.

Additionally, a meeting of all potential regional Center Coordinators is planned.
Regional Centers: Initial Workplan

This would include:

- securing membership from member countries in the region,
- developing scope of work and Terms of Reference,
- organizing meetings as needed and
- working with member countries through NSOs, civil society, researchers and advocates to meet their needs, and to ensure careful monitoring and evaluation of the pilot process to inform the establishment of future centers.
Additional Activities 2019-2020

The project will continue to support:

• trainings (national, NSO/DPO/NGO),
• website development,
• consultations, and
• technical response teams.
